Base Salaries and Pay Scales

In 2013, the starting salary for a new police recruit in Dallas was approximately $44,560 annually. The department employed a structured pay scale with clear progression pathways, encouraging officers to develop their careers internally.

Pay Progression and Promotions

Promotion pathways within the Dallas PD were well-defined, typically involving a mix of seniority, performance evaluations, and written exams. For example:

- Promotion to Corporal: Usually after 2-3 years of service, with additional pay increases of approximately 10-15%.
- Promotion to Sergeant: Typically after 4-6 years, with salaries rising to approximately $70,000+ depending on assignments.
- Higher Ranks (Lieutenant, Captain): Salaries could exceed $85,000, with additional responsibilities and administrative duties.

Shift Differential and Overtime

In 2013, officers frequently worked overtime, especially during peak crime periods or special events, supplementing their base pay. The department paid overtime at premium rates, often time-and-a-half, which could significantly boost total earnings.

Additionally, officers working night shifts or weekends sometimes received shift differential pay, adding about 5-10% to their base salary. These incentives recognized the challenging hours law enforcement personnel often faced.

Benefits in 2013

Salary alone does not fully define a police officer's compensation. Benefits play a crucial role in job satisfaction, financial security, and work-life balance. - Defined Benefit Pension: Officers contributed approximately 7-8% of their salary to the plan, matched by the city.
- Retirement Eligibility: Typically after 20-25 years of service, with benefits calculated based on average salary over the highest 3 years.
- Pension Benefits: Officers could expect a pension that replaced roughly 50-70% of their final salary, depending on years of service and contribution history.

The TMRS was considered a valuable benefit, providing long-term financial security upon retirement.

Paid Leave and Time Off

Work-life balance was supported through various leave policies:

- Annual Paid Vacation: Ranged from 10 to 20 days per year, increasing with years of service.
- Sick Leave: Typically 12-15 days annually, with accrual options and provisions for extended illness.
- Personal Days and Holidays: Officers received paid time off for federal and local holidays, plus personal days for personal or family needs.

Furthermore, officers could accrue unused leave, which could be cashed out or carried over, depending on department policies.
