The 18th century was a dynamic period for martial arts across Europe, with fencing evolving from battlefield combat to a refined art of sport and self-defense. Scotland, with its rich martial traditions, contributed notably to this evolution. Scottish fencing was characterized by a focus on practical techniques, adaptability, and a strong sense of national identity.

Here are five pivotal texts or authors whose works contributed to or influenced fencing in North America.

1. "The Art of Defence" by William Hamilton (circa 1700s)
